Ecampus 2012 Graduation and Reception • June 17

Greetings, graduates!

Welcome to Corvallis and Oregon State University for this commemoration of your remarkable achievements. As online learners who hail from all over the world, many of you are making your first visit to the Oregon State campus today, and there is no better occasion than to receive your OSU diploma.

Every student's journey toward graduation is marked by immense dedication and countless sacrifices. This is especially true of OSU Ecampus students – a collection of nontraditional learners who must balance an array of responsibilities while pursuing their education. On your way to graduation, you raised families, worked full-time jobs, served our country nobly in the military, moved to new places, endured a financial challenge and faced many more obstacles.

Through it all, you succeeded. The effort you made to earn your degree from OSU was nothing short of inspiring, and we are delighted to share in the celebration with you today.

Commencement marks not the end of something great, but the start of something better. You now join the ranks of thousands of OSU graduates who moved on to help shape the world and enhance the economic, environmental and social welfare of our society. We are excited to see what is in store for you next.

On behalf of everyone at OSU, please accept my congratulations.

A. Scott Reed

Vice Provost for University Outreach and Engagement
