

The New User Interface

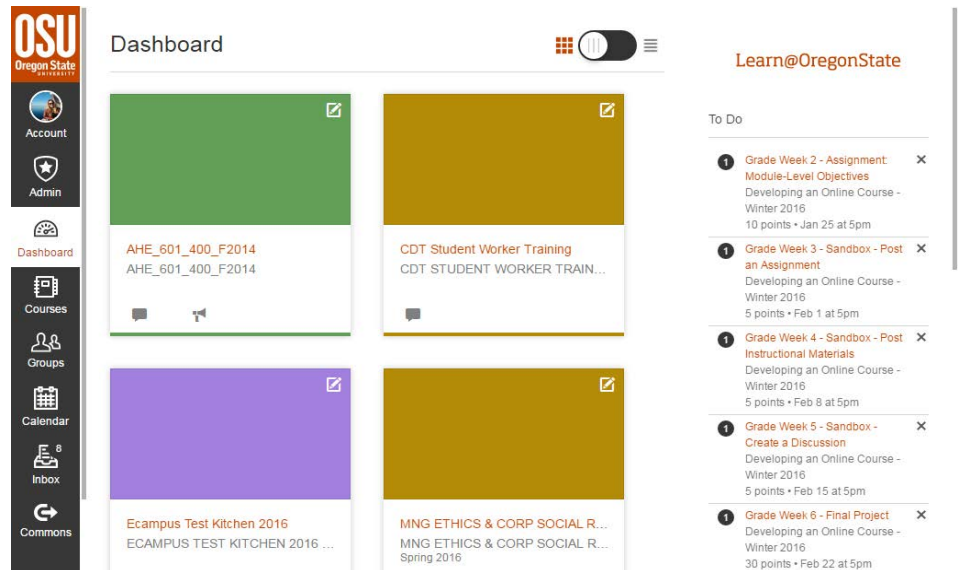

Canvas looks a bit different when you login to it now. It was recently updated with the new user interface. However, once in your courses, they will operate the same as before. There are three main components that have been updated:

- The Dashboard
- The Global Navigation
- Collapsible Course Menu

The Dashboard:

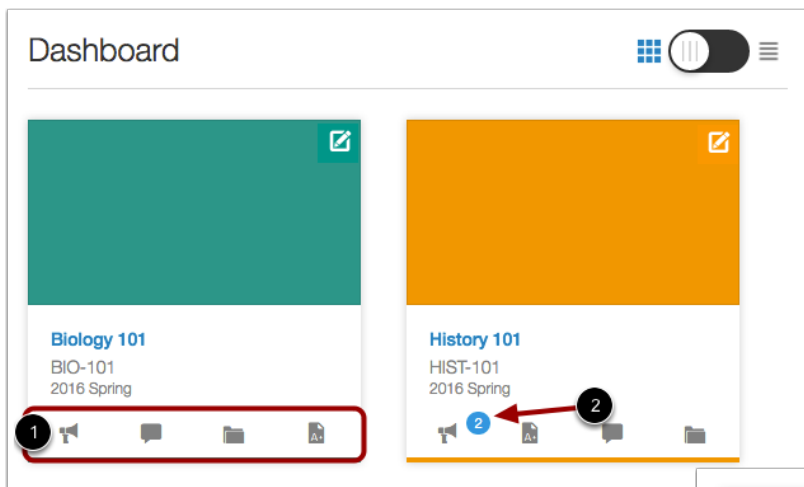

Canvas will now open to cards of each of your favorited (starred courses).

Your upcoming events will still show on the side, or at the bottom of the page, depending on the size of your window.

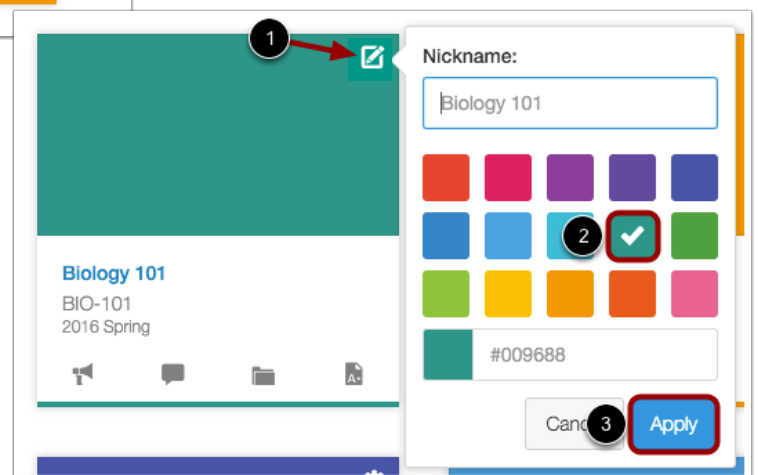

Course Cards:

Course cards give you quick access to your favorited (starred) courses.

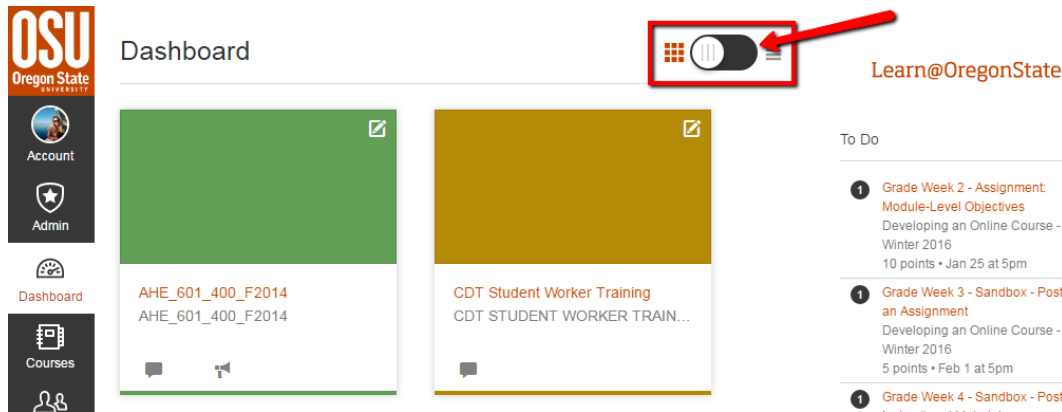

- (1) Each card can include up to four tabs, which represent the four main Canvas features for course activity: Announcements, Assignments, Discussions, and Files.
- (2) The number in the blue circle indicates the number of new activities from Discussions and Announcements.

You can edit your course cards by clicking the edit icon in the upper right corner. You can change the color and give the course a nickname.

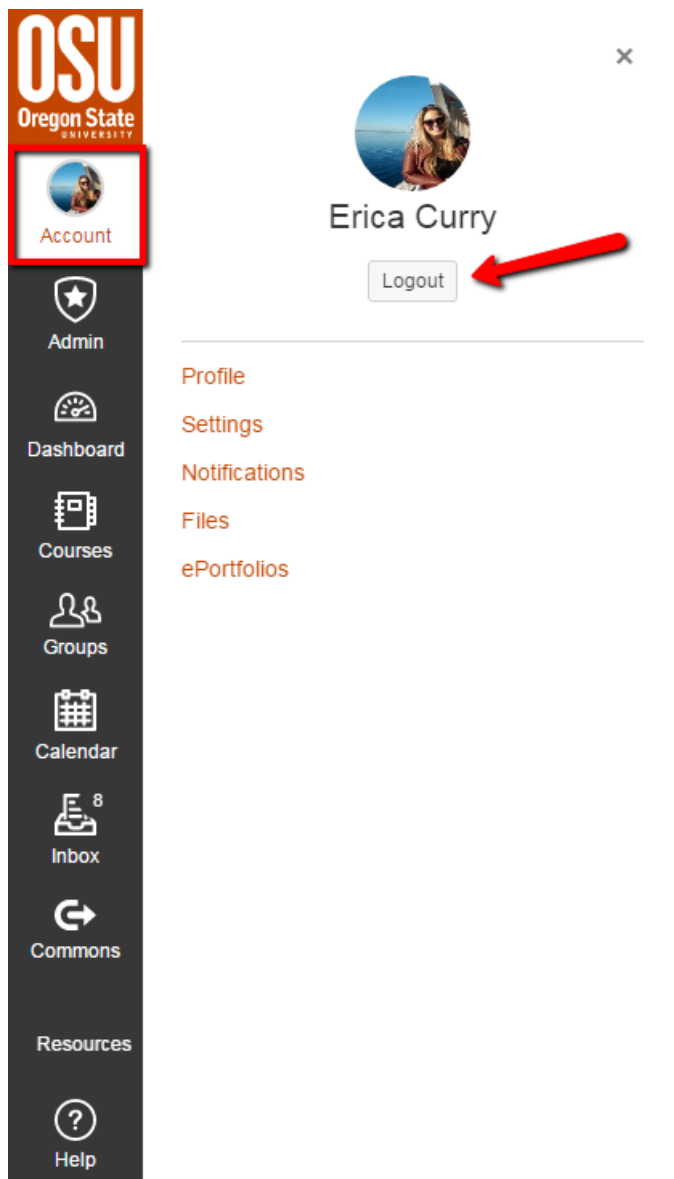

Turning off the Dashboard view:

You can also toggle off the dashboard view by clicking on this toggle icon. It will return you to the recent activity view. You can return to the dashboard view again by clicking on the dashboard icon on the left Global Menu.

The Global Course Menu:

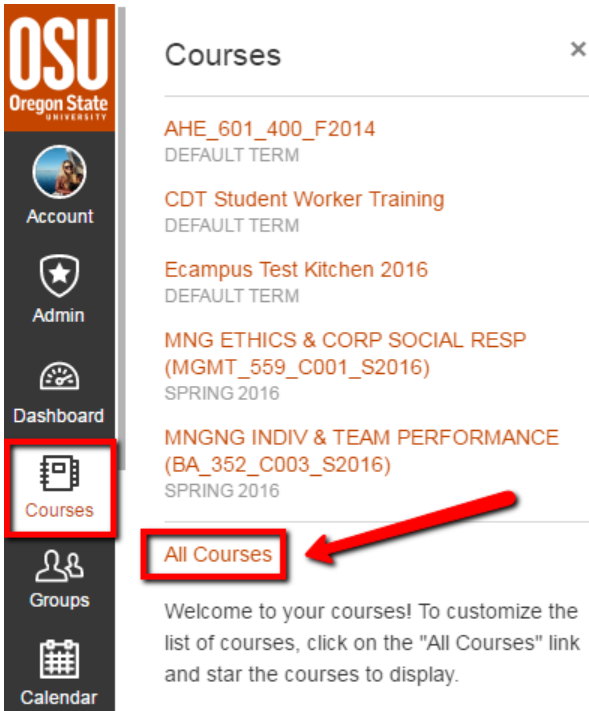

A second component of the Canvas new User Interface is the Global Navigation, which is a static menu on the left side of the page. This menu is accessible from any page within Canvas, so you can click the Dashboard link to return to it at any time.

Account:

Within the Global Navigation you can modify your user settings or profile by clicking the Account link. You can also specify your notification preferences, upload personal files, or manage ePortfolios here.

Click the Logout link to logout of Canvas on this page as well.

To hide the slide-out menu, click the menu link again or click the close icon.
